THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION. Day of Thinksgiving for the Who Country Appointed by the President.

A Day of Thinksgiving for the Whole Country Appointed by the President.

By the President of the United States of America:

In the year which is now drawing to its end, the art, the skill, and the labor of the people of the United States have been employed with greater diligence and vigor, and on broader fields than ever before, and the fruits of the earth have been gathered into the granery and the storehouses in marvelous abundance. Our highways have been lengthened, and new and prolific regions have been occapied. We are permitted to hope that long protracted political and sectional dissentions are, at no distant day, to give place to returning harmony and fraternal affection throughout the Republic. Many foreign States have entered into liberal agreements with as, white nations which are far off and which, heretofore have been unsocial and exclusive, have become friends. The annual period of rest which we have reached in health and tranquility, and which is crowned with so many blessings, is, by universal consent, a convenient and statistable one for cultivating personal piety and practicing public devotion. I therefore recommend that Thursday, the 28th day of November next, be set apart and observed be all the people of the United States as a day of public praise, thanksgiving and prayer to thy Almighty Creator and Divine Ruler of the Universe, by whose ever watchful, merciful and gracious providence alone, States and Nations, not less than families and individual men, do live and move and have their being.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this Twelfth day of [SEAL] October, in the year of our Lord, one theusand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States the interty-third.
